World Book Day

World Book Day is on Thursday 4th March. We have purchased an online pantomime for everyone to be able to watch on the following website:

<https://www.takeawayproductions.com/watch-now>

We will be watching it in school and hope you will do so at home. We'll text the password on Thursday. If you don't manage to watch it on Thursday you have the rest of the half term to do so (likewise if families of children who watched it in school want to see it too they can do so).

Additional World Book Day activities can be found using this link:
